

Harassment-free Sport

- ? Are you responsible for junior development within your club or association?
- ? Are you a coach who would like to gain a better understanding of harassment, discrimination and child protection issues?
- ? Do you sit on the board of your club or association and want to learn more about member protection, rights and obligations and resolving complaints?

Sport and Recreation Tasmania, in collaboration with the Office of the Anti-Discrimination Commissioner, are conducting harassment-free sport workshops specifically aimed at sporting organisations.

Harassment-free Sport Overview

11 March 2009 – Launceston

18 March 2009 – Hobart

20 April 2009 – Burnie

These workshops are aimed at anyone involved in sport, including board and committee members, coaches and officials. The workshops will also be beneficial for anyone with responsibility for risk management and/or member protection, those involved in the conduct of investigations and/or who sit on tribunals. Or anyone interested in obtaining a basic understanding of harassment, discrimination and child protection issues.

The workshops will briefly look at discrimination, harassment and child abuse legislation, the Australian Sports Commission Harassment-free Sport Strategy and member protection, rights and obligations, adopting a preventative approach, resolving complaints, next steps and useful resources.

These workshops are being provided at no cost; however, numbers are limited so book early to avoid missing out.
